

2cLAST EDITION*2c*HARRY THAW SLASHES HIS THROAT*THE DAY BOOKAn Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday*

VOL. 6, NO. 88 Chicago, Thursday, January 11, 1917

398

W. R. HEARST'S CHICAGO
BOSS DIVORCED IN MYSTERY

Mrs. Jane Keehn Says Roy Just Up and Left Her—He Directs Policy of American and Examiner—Is a Society Light—Divorce Kept Very Quiet.

Roy Keehn, general manager of the Hearst interests in Chicago and

THAW CUTS THROAT
—SERIOUS

Phila. Pa., Jan. 11.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, wanted now in connection with the Gamp case, slashed his throat in a W. Philadelphia apartment today. He was rushed to a hospital in a serious condition.

right-hand man of the multi-millionaire newspaper magnate in the west, was divorced by his wife today in an action which slid through the courts so quickly and quietly that not a hundred people in the city knew of it.

Judge Charles M. Foell granted the decree today after a brief hearing Tuesday, when attorneys for Keehn and his estranged wife presented the court with a copy of an